

The AMERICAN COLLEGE of the MEDITERRANEAN

At-A-Glance

- Robust financial aid packages with no FAFSA required
- American-style curriculum and support
- All programs 1 year in length except the 2-year MFA program
- Most programs held at the Aix-en-Provence, France campus, while others commence at the Barcelona, Spain center

GRADUATE DEGREES

- Master of Arts in Art History (MAAH)
- Master of Arts in French Studies (MAFS)
- Master of Arts in International Education Administration (MAIE)
- Master of Arts in International Relations (MAIR)
- Master of Arts in Media Studies (MAMS)
- Master of Business Administration (MBA)
- Master of Fine Arts - Painting (MFA)

PROGRAM LOCATIONS

- The MAMS, MAIE and MBA programs begin with a fall semester in Barcelona, Spain, while all other programs begin at our Aix-en-Provence, France campus
- All graduate degree students are required to complete a January Term Traveling Seminar, conducted at one or more locations in Europe and North Africa

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

- Field studies and January Term traveling seminars alongside semester coursework
- Internships with local businesses and organizations
- Homestay opportunities for language and culture immersion

MISSION & HISTORY

- Prepare students for global careers through study of European and Mediterranean history, languages, cultures, and contemporary international issues
- Originally founded by former U.S. diplomats in 1957 and known as the Institute for American Universities (IAU)

APPLICATION DEADLINES

FALL 2026 ENTRY
ADMISSION TYPE	DEADLINE
Priority Decision*	January 7, 2026
Regular Decision	May 6, 2026

Applicants receive priority financial aid consideration*